Producers of quality fruit and vegetables

The long-standing experience and enthusiasm of the Di Stasi family for fruit and vegetable farming, led to the setting up of a company by the same name in the Ofanto Valley on the border of the regions of Apulia and Basilicata. This area is particularly renowned for its unique pedoclimatic qualities.

In the 90s the homogeneity of the market led the company to focus its skills on growing genuine quality products, thus creating a modern plant with the latest refrigeration techniques and technologically advanced production and packaging systems. The perfect balance between the land and the production systems ensures maximum freshness of the fruit and vegetables and the preservation of their unique organoleptic qualities, thanks to a production cycle that ends within 24 hours.

All crops are grown according to good farming policies and precise plans that are based on customer requirements. We choose the most suitable land for the different kinds of fruit and vegetables, and rotate the crops and land as much as possible, evaluating the best environmental and pedoclimatic conditions. The aim of this process is to obtain products with excellent organoleptic qualities, within a sustainable agricultural framework.

OUR PRODUCTS

The Di Stasi business produces and markets various varieties of fruit and vegetables including: broccoflower, cauliflower, romanesco, green cauliflower, savoy cabbage, spring cabbage, turnip tops, green and white celery, parsley, chard, Catalonia chicory, Roman chicory, clingstone peaches, and extra virgin olive oil. Traceability of the complete production cycle is ensured by controls of provenance and of the production methods used, in compliance with integrated farming standards that care for the environment and guarantee food safety. The company's belief in quality products and systems has led them to obtain EUREPGAP certification and the "Ofanto Valley Cauliflower" quality mark. Furthermore, the company has begun a project for the promotion and enhancement of clingstone peaches and olive oil.
