Cooperative Company

COLTOR is a cooperative company that works with its producer members in the regions of Abruzzi, Latium and Apulia.

Founded in 1983, it specializes in the production of traditional fresh vegetables. Produce is processed for distribution at two production plants in the Fucino Valley, one at Ortucchio specializing in carrot processing, and the other at Venere specializing in processing the other produce of the range.

High levels of specialization and the application of control procedures for the production process allow COLTOR to guarantee quality and continuity in its standards and services.
